Vintage Gardens – "Ohana (family) Garden Campaign"

I thought I would share a few pictures of the progress of the Ohana back garden.

As you can see, Greg Mukai and Howard Yamagiwa have cleaned up the area, installed most of the rocks and have planted the Sago Palms, a few plants and trees. A temporary drip irrigation system has been installed to sustain the new and remaining plants.

The Yamaguchi-Reese Memorial Garden will be the first area to be completed. In my last article, I mentioned the work that has been completed in this area and now, some low shrubs have been planted. About this time next year, a Jacaranda tree will offer some shade and beautiful purple flowers and the shrubs will have filled in. This will be a lovely respite for relaxation and contemplation for our residents.

The Torii gate that has been in our back garden for many years holds a modern meaning of entering a nature space and this is our goal. We have a long way to go and with your help, we can complete a beautiful and calming nature space everyone at Vintage Gardens can enjoy.

I encourage you to contribute to this wonderful project. It will enhance the back area, and as I mentioned last time, "Ohana" is family in Hawaiian and that is what we are here at Vintage Gardens, a FAMILY!

President's Message

By: Dean Hiyama, Esq/CCNF Board President

Hello Everyone,

Things are warming up and CCNF is getting hot with projects to undertake. I mentioned in my last newsletter that the outdoor landscaping project and fundraiser (The Ohana Family Garden Campaign) has begun and we are excited with the transformation of the exterior of the grounds.

Other projects that have come up are the possibility of Solar Panel installations for reduction of electricity charges and Information Technology upgrades to keep Vintage Gardens up to date with the latest technology improvements. As everything is becoming dependent on technology and as new technology improves, we are keeping abreast to provide the best and up to date service for our residents. We will be undergoing an update of our IT infrastructure to replace outdated equipment and improve communication of residents and staff and families.

We are hopeful to get the Nikkei Center going in the next few months after the COVID pandemic and there could be some changes to scheduling and activities once it becomes fully operational. We thank everyone for their patience and understanding during the COVID pandemic, and look forward to seeing everyone again.

We have several fundraising projects on-going, the Garden Campaign, and our upcoming CCNF Swing for Seniors golf tournament on Sept. 25, 2022 at Eagle Springs Golf & Country Club, will be held on a Sunday to allow everyone to enjoy the festivities. In addition we will be hosting several fundraising events though out the year to have fun and raise funds to be able to complete these projects to make our senior's lifestyles and enjoyable as possible.

The CCNF Board of Directors thank you for your participation and generous donations to help our seniors.

Have a safe and happy summer!

The Wellness Model

We've long known that true wellness transcends a person's physical health, and that achieving whole-person well-being requires taking into account many facets of each person's unique identity. While each person's wellness is unique to their experiences and influences, the Person-Centric Wellness Model identifies three contributing drivers that play a significant role: Autonomy, Achievement, and Affiliation.

Autonomy: We thrive when empowered to make our own choices. Even when we rely on others, being able to make decisions for ourselves is a key driver of personal well-being.

Achievement: Confidence comes from doing, from learning, and from knowing. A powerful way to foster wellness is accomplishment on our own terms.

Affiliation: One of the most basic human needs is to belong. To feel a part of something bigger than ourselves. Being connected to other people is critical to achieving well-being. Happiness is important not only because it feels good, but because it's associated with other important outcomes, such as better physical and mental health, more positive social interaction, and greater creativity. The Person-Centric Wellness Model recognizes that people don't leave their personal history behind when they move to a senior living community. They stay connected to the people and institutions that had previously been a part of their lives. Their individual wellness isn't limited to the experiences that they have within the community, either. It's also influenced by cultural and societal factors, such as places of worship, medical services, and art venues. It's important to be aware of how culture and context influence people's health behaviors and overall wellness.

We're focused on sharing insights, information, and best practices as part of our commitment to continued innovation and wellness.

PLANNED GIVING: CONSIDER A CHARITABLE TRUST

By: Randall N Sakamoto, CPA / CCNF Treasurer

In my continuing series on planned giving, I will discuss the benefits of setting a charitable trust to provide a donation to the Central California Nikkei Foundation while retaining income from the trust assets during your lifetime or preserving the trust assets for your heirs. By doing so, donating to the charitable trust could also avoid capital gains and provide a charitable tax donation.

Perhaps, you have accumulated a portfolio of appreciated stocks or real estate. As I discussed in my last newsletter article, you could donate the appreciated assets to the CCNF and avoid capital gains on the sale of the stock and receive a charitable tax deduction for the donation for the value of the donated asset. Maybe you don't want to lose the income from these assets or don't want your heirs to lose these assets from their inheritance. Setting up a charitable trust may be a great solution.

When you donate appreciated assets to a CHARITABLE LEAD TRUST, you name the CCNF as the income beneficiary of the trust during your lifetime (or a certain number of years) and pass on these assets to your heirs upon your death. Or conversely, when you donate to a CHARITABLE REMAINDER TRUST, you retain the income of the trust during your lifetime and name the CCNF as the beneficiary of the trust assets upon death.

In either case, the income stream and the inheritance are actuarially valued at the time of the donation. You will receive a charitable tax donation for the value of the income stream with a LEAD TRUST or the inheritance value with a REMAINDER trust in the year the assets are donated to the trust. Depending on the value of the donation and the age of the donor, this could provide a substantial tax benefit from the charitable donation while avoiding capital gains if you were to sell the assets (and then make a donation).

If you are interested in learning more about setting up a charitable trust, we would be happy to discuss them with you or consult your financial advisor.

Activities Department News - By Sylvia Baeza – Activity Coordinator

Greetings everyone, time is sure flying by! It was not long ago when we were having a Cinco de Mayo party that had the residents and staff dancing. I also did a little dancing myself, I couldn't help but twirl around to the music that had my feet dancing to the beat. Oh, what fun!!!

The month of May we invited everyone to honor our residents who were Mothers with a special Mother's Day tea. The ladies wore their very own spring hat to the tea party that they made themselves. So beautiful to see their creativity that went into each hat.

With summer here we have already planned an outdoor BBQ, Scenic drive, outings to our residents' favorite restaurants and wherever else the residents may request.

The month of June we have several music performances scheduled. We are looking forward to our Hula dance class that will be taught by a professional instructor Kealoha Sakamoto. The residents will wear their hula skirts and learn some basic hula steps.

I am excited to announce a new activity room the "Sunshine Room". The Sunshine Room will focus on sensory processing which involves stimulating one or more of the senses like hearing, touch, vision, smell and taste. We will be implementing activities that are designed to engage the senses in natural and creative ways. The overall benefit includes reducing anxiety to help with concentration and meeting the needs of a person with cognitive impairment. Quality care is essential in improving one's health. Reaching all our resident's needs is our goal to provide activities that will benefit every need in whatever stage of life one is at.

Our activity department has two new team members, take a moment to welcome them. I am so excited to have these wonderful ladies: Lupita Tapia, has been with Vintage Gardens for 5 years working in our Housekeeping Department. Her capability to brainstorm new ideas and her passion and creativity can already be seen throughout the building. Lupita loves spending quality time at home with her family especially with her lovely daughter Melanie who is 8 years old. Our second team member is Daisy Dingilius, she is one of our newest employees. Her upbeat and enthusiasm are felt by all that she's in contact with. She has two older brothers and two younger sisters. In her spare time, she loves spending time with her family and friends. She loves the outdoor activities including hiking, stargazing or just sitting outside enjoying the outdoors. Welcome aboard ladies!

As a team, we look forward to bringing creative activities and having our residents happily engaged, here at Vintage Gardens. If you have suggestions for activities, we would love to hear them. We are always looking to improve activities for our residents. The activity calendar and upcoming activities/outings may be viewed on our website www.vintagegardens.org. Check it out!

CCNF Cookbook

We are off to a great start and have received our first recipes! As I think about why we want to do a cookbook, I realize it's more than just sharing recipes. It's about preserving our past and honoring our loved ones each time we make their special dish. When I see the stains on my grandma's recipe that I have made countless times, I see her face and hear her laugh.

Food is what brings us together to create our memories from holidays, gatherings and special events. We'd love to include those recipes that bring such joy to your family.

Please send us your favorite family recipes to include in our cookbook and share with our CCNF community. We'd love to hear your story behind the recipe if you would like to share that with us. We'd also be happy to meet with you to make copies of those special recipes if that is more convenient for you.

Please email recipes to Gale Nakai at gale@ccnf.org or Valerie Araki at lucyaraki@gmail.com. You may also drop off or mail your recipes to the following address:

Dining Services at Vintage Gardens

By: David Hollister
Dietary Supervisor

We are happy to bring in the summer with a few new menu items. The obentos are a big hit with the residents. We have added more salad items for the summer. We recently fired up the panini grill for a new line of hot sandwiches and the BBQ grill for our first BBQ round up of the season!

With several new breakfast dishes to offer, the mornings are filled with smiles and empty plates.

We look forward to more improvements every day. Our mission is to make the best possible dining experience for our residents. We look forward to serving you!

A VERY SPECIAL HONOR FOR A VERY SPECIAL VETERAN!
THANK YOU, GARY, FOR YOUR SERVICE TO YOUR FAMILY, OUR COMMUNITY AND COUNTRY!

A Hero's Welcome Home — 70 years later!!! Gary "Shig" Tsudama served as a Master Sergeant in the Korean War. In mid-May/2022, Gary and his son Greg were part of the long-awaited Central Valley Honor Flight #21 trip to Washington DC which had been postponed for the last two years due to the pandemic. It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience for both Gary and his son.

Being the first Japanese American internment veteran to participate in a Central Valley Honor Flight, special arrangements were made to tour the National Japanese American Memorial to Patriotism During WWII which pays tribute to all of the internment camp sites with its population listed on the memorial and actual soil from each camp beneath the memorial.

At each and every veteran memorial visited, Gary carried photos of his family of veterans who passed (Ben, Jack, Minky, Harry Inn and Wally Yamasaki). Thank you for sharing this experience!

CCNF is finally Reno-bound....Please join us as we journey to Reno!

TENTATIVE DATE: October 3-5, 2022

Please contact Gale Nakai: gale@ccnf.org; 559-252-4036 ext 250 to add your name to the list for details just as soon as they become available. Your tour coordinators are Marcia Chung and Joyce Imai.

Thank you for your continued support of the Central California Nikkei Foundation and the Nikkei Center!
Your kind generosity allows us to provide programs and outreach to the community.
